

	GE103		32		2
	German Listening and Speaking
	Compulsory
	Freshman
	German and Chinese
	School of Foreign Languages
	None
	Likun Fan				None
	As a fundamental course for German majors in the first year, this course puts together teaching of pronunciation, conversation and vocabulary and training of basic language skills like listening, speaking and reading. It does so from a pragmatic approach, i.e., language situations, purposes of communication, topics and genres, with an aim to develop students communication skills. It covers German pronunciation correction, daily conversations, basic vocabulary, cultural issues in German-speaking countries, listening comprehension and conversations of different topics. The goal is to equip students with standard German pronunciation, basic vocabulary, general grammatical rules and skills in listening comprehension, spoken German, and communication. This is done through comprehensive training in German listening and speaking as well as real-life application. Simple articles of a variety of topics and background are also taught in class to improve students understanding of German. With its focus on listening and speaking, this course also aims to improve students skills in the use of German, cross-culture communication, analyzing and commenting, and thinking from a German perspective, so as to help students lay a solid foundation for further study in their junior and senior years.

intercultural communicative competence

Contents	credits	Methods	Homeworks	Requirements	Examination Methods
Theoretical Stage	8	face to face delivery	finish all homeworks and exercises	requirement accomplished	Exercises, practices
Training	20		finish all	requirement

Stage		group practice, reports and homeworks	homeworks and exercises	ent accomplished	Exercises, homeworks
Revision	4	discussion	finish discussions	requirement accomplished	Exercises, homeworks
30% Attendance home works 30% U. EtT, MC%ETPia14E851B70% C20 1 Tf02C5081.802C4>14>112FD1E02DET1scn185. 6 44

2005.

Studienweg Deutsch

1 U. Ettel, ,