

Course Information
Course Code	EN386	*	Credit Hours	32	* Credits	2
* Course Name	6
(Course Type)	Reading and Writing (6)
Target Audience
(Language of Instruction)
* School	School of Foreign Languages
Prerequisite
Instructor			(Course Webpage)
* Description	6		5	Mc MacHill	Taking Sides The Economist
* Description	Reading and Writing (II) is designed to enhance students' overall language proficiency and application to help them lay a solid foundation for translation/interpretation related courses. This course helps students to expand vocabulary, strengthen analytical thinking, carry out extensive and in-depth researches on a topic under discussion by means of in-class discussion and analysis as well as extensive after-class reading. With selections from Taking Sides (Mc MacHill) this course focuses on four topics ranging from economics to the effect of science and technology on society. This, coupled with intensive reading assignments on selected articles from The Economist, makes it possible for authentic language input needed for professional training purposes. Students are required to write in various forms like summary, imitation, back translation, outline and etc. They are encouraged to participate in classroom discussion, presentations and debate for a further understanding of the topic. With all of these efforts both in class and after class, students are expected to reach a higher language and analytical level.

Course Syllabus

* (Learning Outcomes)	2
--------------------------	---	--	--	--	--	--

* (Class Schedule & Requirements)
	1	4
	2	4
		4
	1	4

	2	4
	1	4
	2	4
		4
* (Grading)	60%		10%		30%
* (Textbooks & Other Materials)	James WM. Nolls 2014 Taking Sides , 9787513544146				ISBN
More
Notes

1 *

2 300-500